

Complimentary AIAG membership

If you're ready to do more for your business, Adient is sponsoring a rare opportunity for you to join the Automotive Industry Action Group \(AIAG\).

Adient is not only an active AIAG member but we serve on the board of directors and select committees. We have realized greater efficiencies, cost savings and have leveraged quality resources to help address our business challenges with AIAG, and so can you.

We are so confident in the value of an AIAG membership that Adient is offering sponsored memberships for Tier 2 and below direct part suppliers and whose annual global sales revenue is less than $20 million. If you meet these criteria, your AIAG membership is complimentary for five years – an up to $1,000 value per year.

AIAG memberships are corporate, so your entire staff will have access to the best practices, training, publications and tools OEMs and Tier 1 suppliers enjoy, including:

- Access to best practice guidelines, certifications and training.
- Free access to Quality Core Tools Assessment and online training.
- Invitations to networking events and industry updates.
- Positively influence the next generation of industry solutions when you volunteer at member events and have the opportunity to speak direct with industry experts in quality, corporate responsibility and supply chain management.
- Up-to-date information on government regulatory and compliance reporting requirements.

Joining AIAG is the most important investments in your company you can make. You can learn more about the program here. Minority-owned businesses can learn more here.
