

Adient executive biography

Tammi Dukes

Vice President Global Sustainability

Tammi Dukes is Adient's vice president of Global Sustainability. In this role, she is responsible for leading the company's positive environmental, social and governance-related business practices.

Dukes joins Adient with more than 30 years of experience in the areas of audit and compliance. Most recently, she led the corporate internal audit function at UAW Retiree Medical Benefits Trust. Prior to that, she led the internal audit functions at Henniges Automotive and International Automotive Components Group.

In these roles, she led companies in building their internal audit and compliance functions, as well as performing risk and compliance audits across all business functions to ensure that risks were adequately mitigated.

Dukes earned a bachelor's degree in business management with an accounting concentration from Kentucky State University. She is a member of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Inc.®, where she serves on community service projects that benefit women and children.

She is a member of the Kentucky State University Board of Regents and also serves on the board of Linden Grove School, which educates autistic children, and is a member of the school's Diversity and Equity committee.
